Say Butchers' Strike Not to Affect Village

Local Managers of Markets Doubt Sunday Walkout

Local market chain store operators said today that there is very little probability that the strike which has been called for Monday by 5000 butchers of the AFL Meat Cutters Union over a contract renewal, will affect the local shoppers and "will quite possibly not come off."

Managers of the stores said that they have been told that their companies are ready to sign contracts with the butchers' union as soon as the jurisdictional dispute between the meat cutters and AFL Retail Clerks Union, Local 770, is settled.

NEARLY 3000 Southern California market operators face the possibility of a strike over the contract renewal.

The Food Employers Council yesterday alerted market operators of the threatened walkout if no agreement is reached by mid-night Sunday. The council said some markets already have been reducing meat inventories in anticipation of a possible work stoppage.

THE SITUATION was complicated by a jurisdictional dispute between the AFL Retail Clerks Union, Local 770, and the meat cutters union. The dispute involves handling of frozen and pre-packaged meats and other products.

Informed industry sources indicated no further extensions of meat cutter contracts are planned after the final extension expires Sunday. They said the butchers probably will strike to force the contract renewal.

THE CONTRACTS in the Los Angeles area, San Bernardino and Riverside counties and north to San Luis Obispo, expired Nov. 6 but were extended pending negotiations for new contracts.

The proposed strike will not affect markets in the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor area and in Orange county where new contracts have been signed.

Mercury Drops After Warm Day in Middle West

(By UNITED PRESS)
Temperatures jumped and dipped like a yo-yo in much of the nation's West and Midwest today. They jumped into the 40's and 50's during yesterday's warm spell only to drop as much as 28 degrees when cold arctic air from the north, plus a Pacific cool front, moved in.

The cool-off spread as far east as the Eastern Great Lakes and averaged 10 to 15 degrees in the Central Rockies and Upper Mississippi Valley.

At Bryce Canyon, Utah, the mercury went down 28 degrees from 19 above to 9 below, while Delta, Utah, had a drop of from 32 to 11. It was below zero over the Eastern Dakotas and Western Minnesota, with Minot, N. D., reporting 12 degrees below zero.

Calectric to Spend Third of Million in Local Area

California Electric Power Company will spend $331,300 for expansion of electric distribution facilities in the Palm Springs district during 1956, Francis Crocker, district manager, said today. The district includes Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City and Palm Desert and intermediate points.

The work will include construction of new lines, modernization and improvement of others and the expansion of substations to meet an unprecedented increase in all classifications of customers.

Would Bury Bombs in Far-Off Places

LONDON (AP)—Admiral of the Fleet Lord Fraser proposed in the House of Lords Wednesday burial of all atom and hydrogen bombs in the following places:

"Half-way up to Mt. Everest, the Sahara Desert and Basutoland, Africa."

THE ACTION BY the local Chamber came as a result of a discussion by the Indian Chamber to approve the ore reduction plant near Thousand Palms. The Indian board looked very unfavorably on the request of the local Chamber for support in opposing the ore plant's construction.

Indio board member, Tom Mullin, said "Palm Springs seems to have the idea that every other community in the desert should also be a resort area."

President Roy King, speaking to members of the Chamber present, added: "If we want a balanced economy to make our area grow, this is the time to put our feelings on record."

KING POINTED OUT to the members of the board that a manufacturing plant was opened just this week in Desert Hot Springs, and added that Indio had had a chance to attract this particular plant, but lost it when local residents failed to make their true feelings concerning industry known.

On a motion by Clarence Washburn, and seconded by Mullin, the board approved a resolution in favor of the plant, a copy of which will be sent to the county board.

Toy Committee of Friendly Aid Society Speeds Work

To make certain that Santa Claus has enough toys for every boy and girl in Palm Springs, the Toy Committee of the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society has been working since early last Spring.

Mrs. Charles H. McFarland is chairman, and is assisted by Mrs. E. K. Woods and Mrs. Newton Hotchkiss.

THERE IS A FOURTH committee member, too, without whom this project would have been virtually impossible. Bob Byerly, Palm Springs' own "Santa's helper," works all year repairing and renovating the toys which have been donated.

Each member of the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society has dressed a doll for Christmas distribution to deserving families, who will also receive other toys and baskets of food. This is an annual project in which they are assisted by many other civic groups, including the Women's Club, Elks Lodge and Service Clubs.

DONATIONS OF NEW toys are still being sought from merchants and individuals, according to Mrs. McFarland, and they may be left at the Health Center, 400 East Amado Road between 1 and 4:30 p.m. daily.

More wheel toys are needed, and also additional dolls and doll clothes. There is also a shortage of teen age gifts such as records, hobby materials and sports equipment of all kinds.

1000 PALMS PLANT TO BE CONFERENCE TOPIC

Board of Directors of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce today set up a special committee to meet with representatives of the Indian Chamber of Commerce to discuss the action taken by them last night concerning the proposed ore reduction plant to be constructed at Thousand Palms.

Named to the special committee were William Tackett, George Olman and Earl Hough, and they will try to set the meeting for sometime early next week.

THIS ACTION BY the local Chamber came as a result of a discussion by the Indian Chamber to approve the ore reduction plant near Thousand Palms. The Indian board looked very unfavorably on the request of the local Chamber for support in opposing the ore plant's construction.

UN Approves Admission of 18 Nations

13 Non-Communist Countries, 5 Red Nations Added

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly today gave overwhelming approval to a recommendation that 13 non-Communist and five Communist nations be admitted.

The Assembly vote was 52 to 2 with 5 abstentions. The strong support for the admission of the 18 nations indicated by the Assembly vote puts heavy pressure on the 11-nation Security Council to approve the entry of the whole group to the world body.

The Assembly vote exactly duplicated the ballot in the Special Political Committee, which yesterday gave preliminary approval to a resolution sponsored by Canada and 27 other countries setting up the package deal.

NATIONALIST CHINA and Cuba voted against the resolution. The United States, France, Belgium, Greece and Israel abstained.

South Africa, boycotting the General Assembly because of its debate on South African racial segregation policies, was absent. Applause rolled through the Assembly hall as President Jose Maza of Chile announced the result of the vote.

The Assembly's action, however, was little more than a "persuader" to the Security Council to recommend the admission of the 18 countries.

UNDER U. N. RULES, new members are elected by a two-thirds vote of the Assembly only after the council has recommended their admission. Council approval requires favorable votes of seven of the 11 members and can be blocked by the veto of any of five permanent members.

Nationalist China, according to an official announcement, plans to veto Outer Mongolia in the council. Russia has announced that it will veto the entire plan if any of its five Communist candidates fails to gain admission.

Mass Inoculation in Paratyphoid Fever Epidemic

LANCASTER, Pa., (AP)—The Lancaster City and County Medical Society ordered an inoculation program today for an estimated 35,000 persons to combat an epidemic of paratyphoid in this area.

The society emphasized, however, that the program would not be effective in controlling the epidemic for at least 10 days, the incubation period of the disease, which is a milder form of typhoid fever.

A total of 54 persons, most of the infants and small children, have been stricken since the weekend.

Water Battle Opens Today in U.S. Court

Colorado River Dispute Argued in Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court heard arguments today on the latest round in the California-Arizona dispute over rights to billions of gallons of Colorado River water.

The issue is of major importance in both states. California, with a mushrooming population and limited water supply, and Arizona, planning a huge desert reclamation project, depend to a large extent on the winding Colorado River for water.

Disputes over division of Colorado River water have been before the Supreme Court for about 25 years.

THE QUESTION before the high court today was whether Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico should become parties to the dispute between California and Arizona.

California has urged the Supreme Court to bring in the four states as indispensable parties since they apportion Colorado waters among themselves through an Upper Basin Compact.

Arizona and the other four states have objected to California's move, contending the matter is one for Lower Basin states to settle.

A SPECIAL ARBITRATOR appointed by the Supreme Court recommended last Spring that California's request be turned down except in so far as Utah and New Mexico are involved in their minor capacities as lower basin states.

Arizona is seeking to clinch title to 3,800,000 acre feet of water it is entitled to under the seven-state compact. Arizona brought suit against California in 1952, charging that California is taking more than its share of the water and is building works that could drain still more.

California has denied the accusation and leveled a similar charge at Arizona. It also contends Arizona is not a bona-fide member of the compact and that the federal government should be brought into the dispute because of a water compact with Mexico and through its water treaties with Indians.

Reopening of 60 Set for Feb. 16

The long awaited reopening of the new four-lane stretch of Highway 60 through the Badlands between Banning and Riverside is scheduled for February 16, Supervisor Homer Varner reported yesterday.

The date also marks the start of the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival at Indio. Varner has invited Gov. Goodwin Knight to officiate at the opening ceremony, which is scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

REFUGEE WHO HATES RUSSIANS MAY BE RETURNED TO THEIR CUSTODY

By BILL RASHALL
Jerry Charaskiewicz, 29-year-old blue-eyed, blond native of Poland, who frankly admits that he deserted the Polish army in 1946 "because I hate the Russians and communism" was traced and taken into custody by the U. S. Immigration authorities Monday night for possible deportation back to his native country.

His arrest took place in the Chi Chi where he worked as a waiter. A job he held last winter season as well, and where he had endeared himself to the owner, Irwin Schuman, and his co-workers, by his deportment and graciousness.

ON THREE DIFFERENT occasions, since 1949 when he first "jumped" ship in San Francisco after working his way up from Venezuela, until his last apprehension Monday night, he has escaped from U. S. officials in Los Angeles, San Francisco, and once in New York to lose himself in this country. The third time he was held at Ellis Island, was paroled for three months, with the hope of government officials that some country would take him. But he violated his parole and disappeared again, and when apprehended once more was granted a hearing in New York City and ordered deported to his native Poland. He got as far as Copenhagen, Denmark, and there persuaded airline officials to fly him back to this country.

"I CAN'T RETURN to Poland," he is reported to have informed the officials at his hearing. "I deserted the Polish communist army and they'll shoot me. I'm not a communist and they know it." It was the wrong statement for Jerry to make. Had he informed the immigration officials that he wanted political asylum in this country it probably would have been granted.

GORDON CORNELL, acting chief of U. S. Immigration in Los Angeles, said that a deserter from any army of any nation mandates this government to return such individuals to their native land. His plea that he would be shot was duly considered by the immigration officials but "this country can-

REFRIGERATOR CARS MAY HAVE TO BE HEATER-EQUIPPED

RENO (AP)—The telephone rang early this morning at the U. S. Weather Bureau's Municipal Airport station.

An anxious official of Pacific Fruit Express was on the line. He asked if the temperature was expected to climb above 10 degrees today in Carlin, a small railroad community in North-Central Nevada.

"If it doesn't," he said, "we'll have to put heaters in our refrigerator cars."

Fear Reds Plan to Hold GIs as Trade Hostages

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. authorities asked Russian officials again today for information on two American soldiers who allegedly were arrested in East Berlin for attacking a Communist night club entertainer.

The request was the second made by the United States in 24 hours.

THE TWO SOLDIERS were arrested yesterday by East Berlin police and turned over to the Soviets. Western officials feared they might be held as hostages in an effort to obtain the release of a Russian officer who fled to the West.

An American spokesman described as "outrage" the fact the Soviets had refused thus far to give any information on the GIs. The East German Communist press hammered away again at the "corrupt" West Berlin government, and an official Communist newspaper said the "whole regime must disappear to make Berlin free from scandals and corruption."

THE NEWEST THREAT was accompanied by renewed hints at blocking passage of Berlin's supply barges from West Germany unless the Bonn government knuckles under to the Red demands it negotiate as an equal with the "sovereign" East German government.

The two Americans were seized Wednesday by East Berlin Communist police as "drunken American gangsters" and turned over to the Soviets in apparent respect of a four-power agreement covering such cases. Western officials said their early return would show Soviet good faith in abiding by the four-power agreements.

After the discussion on taxes, the President was ready to turn to consideration of cold war problems at the National Security Council meeting. A priority topic for discussion at the secret session was likely to be the new war of nerves in Berlin.

Any delay in administration requests for a tax cut could be expected to set off a sharp political debate. Both parties want quick action on a tax cut as a politically strategic move with the voters for the 1956 presidential campaign.

Seek Seven Missing After Navy Crash

Three of Crew of Ten on Patrol Bomber Rescued

HONOLULU (AP)—A two-engine Navy patrol bomber with a crew of 10 crashed at sea 26 miles off the shore of Kaula Island late last night and a submarine picked up three survivors.

An air-sea search was manned immediately for the remaining crewmen.

The three survivors were identified as Lt. K. C. Guedel, Dover, Ohio, the pilot of the downed P-2V; Lt. (jg) E. F. O'Malley, Lt. (jg) Robert S. Smith, Montgomery, Ala.

Two of the survivors needed medical attention and were returned to Pearl Harbor.

The plane crashed while on a routine training mission with seven submersibles. A search began when it failed to report on schedule.

The pilot of the other patrol bomber, Lt. Marvin L. Claude, reported he lost contact with the missing bomber. He said he was looking around for it when he sighted the flares.

Flying over to check, he saw the flashing lights of the survivors' Mae West lifejackets in the water. He helped guide the Banshaw to the rescue.

Claude said he did not see the plane crash or know what the cause of the accident was.

Stevenson Bids for Labor Votes in Attack on T-H

By JACK WOLSTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, unsuccessful champion of labor in the 1952 presidential election, made another bid for its support today with a blast against the Taft-Hartley Act and the so-called right-to-work laws effective in 17 states.

Stevenson, an announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination again in 1956, touched on all aspects of the Eisenhower administration that have become the whipping posts of labor in a speech to the inaugural convention of the merged AFL-CIO.

He said the so-called state right-to-work laws, which prohibit the union shop, were not fair. "To the workers, to the employer and to the public."

"And there has long been agreement that many of the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act are inequitable or unworkable," he said. "They must be changed or removed."

Stevenson told the delegates representing the 16 million members of the new labor organization that he had not planned to make a political speech but proposed, "nevertheless, to speak bluntly against what appears to be a design to play the ugly politics of group hatred."

He made it plain that the farm policy would be an issue in 1956 when he accused Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson of "an attempt to blame the farmer's current depression on the city worker's wage."

He called for expanded programs in housing, schools, medical care and Social Security and he said that "unemployment compensation must be extended and its benefits made more realistic."

They also told the tea houses to have the lights burning brightly enough so a man could read his newspaper.

Parents Urged to Have Children Inoculated Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele appealed to parents today to get Salk shots for their children as soon as possible to be sure they are protected during the 1956 polio season.

If everyone waits until May, he warned, there will be a "hopeless logjam." Inevitably, he said, some children would miss out at least temporarily.

Scheele made the plea after a committee of the nation's leading polio authorities unanimously rejected a proposed switch to a single-shot inoculation program to stretch Salk supplies to more children.

The experts, including Dr. Jonas E. Salk, met all day Wednesday on the question. Scheele announced they agreed to stick to the present schedule which calls for three injections over an eight-month period.

The surgeon general said the scientists decided there wasn't enough evidence to be sure one shot would suffice over a long period. Salk called the decision "splendid." He said it means we will be able to give "the best protection to the most susceptible children." This is the best way to cut down on polio incidence, Salk said.

Newsman Who Refused to Tell Story Source, Freed

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine Supreme Court today ordered the release under $100 bail each of five Filipino newsmen jailed Wednesday for refusing to reveal the source of a news story.

The Supreme Court justices, besieged by lawyers, congressmen and senators, issued the unprecedented order only minutes after a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed on behalf of the newsmen.

The high court also directed Judge Emilio Rilloraza of suburban Pasay City to answer the petition by Dec. 16.

Rilloraza yesterday sentenced the newsmen to 30 days in jail when they refused to disclose the source of stories they wrote about an alleged extortion attempt involving former Defense Secretary Oscar Castelo.

At the time the stories were printed Castelo's case was under consideration by Rilloraza. A few days afterward the judge found Castelo and seven co-defendants guilty of murder and sentenced them to death.

The story the newsmen printed told of a Philippine Constabulary investigation of an alleged offer made Castelo by third parties to arrange a "not guilty" verdict for a price.

Want to Know Baby's Height at 18, Doctor Has Formula

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—A mathematically minded baby doctor has figured out that if you measure the height of a two-year-old boy and then multiply by two, you'll know how tall he will be when he is 18.

Weigh him and multiply his weight by five, and that will be his weight at 18. Or take his "pelvic breadth," multiply by two, and you'll have the width of his beam when he attains the status of young adult.

FOR GIRL BABIES, the mathematics of growth and development as calculated by Dr. Irving Kowaloff of Brooklyn, were a little different. For height and weight they were two and five times height and weight at eighteen months. For "pelvic breadth" it was the same as for boys—twice the width at two years.

Dr. Kowaloff did not claim that these multiplications would be precisely accurate in every case—he claimed only "a high degree of probability."

"IN THE STUDYING and teaching of the subject of growth and development," he said in reporting to the technical journal of the Medical Society of the State of New York, "one is impressed by the many regularities of the process of development in both the physical and psychological spheres."

He needed only basic statistics from which to work out formulas which would be generally applicable. The old statistics on the heights and weights of growing children were too old—they were taken 35 years ago, and since then the average height and weight of young adults have increased.

HE FOUND WHAT he needed in statistical studies of large numbers of children of the Harvard School of Public Health and the University of Iowa. Having arrived at the babyhood ages when height, weight, and pelvic width were one half to one-fifth that of eighteen year olds, he tried out his formulas on the combined statistics. Of the boys, 97 per cent were 37.2 inches tall at two years. By multiplying that by two, he predicted that these 97 per cent should have been 74.4 inches tall at 18. Actually, the 97 per cent were 73.9 inches tall at 18.

So on height, his formula was off only one half inch. On weight predicting for boys, the formula was off four and one-half pounds for 97 per cent of the subjects. The closeness of his predictions for height and weight of girls and pelvic width for boys and girls with what actually happened, was comparable.

Villagers Have Early Christmas Mailing Habits

Palm Springs post office already has handled more than one-fourth the total amount of mail which was passed through here between December 1 and 25 of 1954, Postmaster Merritt Williams reported today as he predicted a record year.

In figures, this is as follows: 1954, 1,726,000 pieces of mail; 1955, to today, 452,000 Christmas cards, letters and packages.

To accommodate early mailers, the post office windows will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on week days, including the next two Saturdays, Williams said.

He asked that all persons mail cards and packages early, to ensure delivery. This week is the final "sure" time to mail to out-of-state points, he said.

The postmaster advised that all gifts should be wrapped securely with plenty of heavy paper and tied with strong cord. All cards should be sent by first class mail and the sender's name and address included on the Christmas card envelopes.

CHRISTMAS GIFT FOR HUNDREDS — Most of your Christmas gifts will be for one person — perhaps a family at the most. But there is one gift that you will have the satisfaction of knowing is spread among hundreds of people throughout all of next year. One single gift can do all that.

It is your gift to the Palm Springs Community Chest.

Please don't stop reading right here — just two or three more minutes of your time for consideration of this item on your gift list. It may be more important than you think.

There are six community service agencies here in Palm Springs that depend entirely upon the Chest for their existence. Scores of people serve without pay to supervise these youth and service agencies but they are dependent upon your help for operating expenses.

You are giving these volunteer workers the tools with which to work. Your gift to the Palm Springs Community Chest is your MOST IMPORTANT donation of the year. Here's why:

There are so many appeals here for worthy causes that it works a hardship on the Community Chest. It may be looked upon as just another of these many worthy appeals. Its importance lies in the fact it represents not one but SIX community service groups which depend ENTIRELY upon the generosity of Palm Springs residents. For the most part they have NO other source of income.

These are our own.

While many of the national fund raising appeals are well-supported in Palm Springs it is a regrettable fact that the local Community Chest finds it difficult to raise the minimum amount to keep its own service agencies functioning. I would not minimize the worthiness of these nation-wide causes like the American Red Cross — nor disparage support of them. What I do want to point out to our residents is that the Community Chest should not be neglected, since it depends solely upon us. It seems to me that, for this reason, the Chest should come first.

Hundreds of residents contribute to the Chest without personal solicitation when they receive their "Advance Gift" letters in the mail. These letters are now in the mail and a prompt and generous response will set the pace for the general campaign. Any others, of course, who want to mail their contributions now can do so.

WINTER RESIDENTS SHOULD HELP — Many people who spend the Winter in Palm Springs maintain residences elsewhere and contribute to the Community Chest in their "other home." The agencies that make up the Palm Springs Chest respectfully urge that Winter residents divide their gifts between the two communities in which they live. Everyone who lives in Palm Springs for even a few months of the year should bear at least a small share of the cost of keeping these agencies in existence. While indirect perhaps, the work of these community groups will touch their lives in many ways. Add to this a sense of community pride and you have a good reason for helping the Chest here as well as the one "back home."

So please don't fail to put the Palm Springs Community Chest on your Christmas gift list. On behalf of the hundreds who will be made happier by it, may I say: Thank you in advance for your advance gift!

Dewey Moves Out of the Shadows — Tom Dewey, two-time loser, once to the champ and the second try to over-confidence and Republican Party inertia, is rapidly emerging from the confusion caused by the illness of President Eisenhower as the GOP's most likely candidate in the event that Mr. Eisenhower withdraws as his party's first choice.

Mr. Dewey's retirement from the governor's mansion in Albany, by no means meant his withdrawal from Republican Party politics. He demonstrated his strength at the Chicago convention when he literally drove the Taft contingent out of the arena ahead of the Eisenhower steamroller and he has wielded great power in the GOP's high councils ever since the change in White House tenants.

Looked at from all angles and in view of all the circumstances, Tom Dewey may be the man to lead the Republicans in 1956. Since his defeat he has shed his smugness and has characterized himself as a very human person who is capable of getting down to the level of the rank and file and talking their language. He is not the Dewey who held aloof from the hinterland in 1948 while Truman was making all the whistle stops and slinging backroom epithets cross-country. He would be a very different candidate in 1956.

If it became a Dewey-Stevenson match, the stigma of being a Presidential loser would be divided, at least in part, although the two-time burden would doubtless be a handicap to the Republican candidate.

If Governor Harriman should emerge as the Democrats' choice it would pit New York vs. New Yorker and two more potent vote getters have not been around for a good many campaigns. It would be a slugfest from the start.

The Republican Party woefully lacks men of political stature and personal appeal, qualities that are vital to a successful candidate.

Dewey has both.

He may be the man to prove that the third time is a charm.

THE PHONY EXPRESS

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By FRED C. WEIGEL
Only fifteen shopping days 'til Christmas. I've finished not a bit. Hope you're on the way 'Cause all I've done is sit.

Seems I have spent most of my time sitting and wondering what to get people instead of going right out and doing it. It always bothers me to get somebody something for Christmas which is not a useful item. Oh, well, I guess this will be like every other year. I'll wait until the last minute and then speed ahead just in time to get things done.

The Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert area is beginning to raise a storm about the speed limit in this area—it's too fast. Just last week, in fact on S-D Day, we had a death on account of an accident in Palm Desert; it was one of nine in the entire state. With the high speed traffic we have these days, the highways could be re-marked for slower traffic in this area; though sometimes I really believe that this would do very little good, because people still have a heavy foot on the accelerator—most seem to be in a hurry to die.

WHILE I WAS TALKING to Sam Arner at his realty office in Cathedral City (there was a story about him on the Desert Empire page yesterday), he showed me a plant in his office that is very green, with very large leaves. It is known as a "Dumb Plant," and he tells me that if you were to eat an ever so little amount of the leaf, you would become voiceless for two or three hours. Some of his men friends have suggested that he give them some to try out on their wives, but women who know about the plant don't think it's funny and add "and just wait until it wears off." With that little warning in mind, I'd leave the leaves alone.

In Thousand Palms Monday, I talked with a few people over there. Among them was Harry Oliver, who had just gotten a note from Charlie Lockwood, who wrote a story called "I Killed a Burro," and he said that the Humane Society publication, The National Humane Review, wanted to reprint it.

The story was published in a very recent issue (Packet Two of Pouch Seven) and it was very good.

AS I MOVED OUT through the communities of the Desert Empire this weekend, I couldn't help but notice the lack of Christmas decorations, and then a little later I talked with Orvil Zappe, head of the Cathedral City Area Business association, and he said that the organization would try at their meeting today to rectify the situation. There is a possibility of running a contest through that organization for the local businesses. He did say that the local clubs, including the Chamber of Commerce and Lions, hoped to have a big program ready for next year.

PALM FOR SERVICE this week goes to Joe Kanya, principal of the Desert Hot Springs school and newly elected "Ornery Mayor" of D.H.S. He did a very good job of winning by a large amount of ten cent votes, money which will be used for the D.H.S. library fund. Second, and not trailing too far, was Cabot Yerxa, who for a while was the leader.

See you again next week.

Congressional Report

By Representative John Phillips

In a few days, Mrs. Phillips and I will turn the car's nose eastward again for what will be my next to last trip (by auto) to Washington as a member of the Congress. This has been an interesting recess. There has been a feeling of relaxation which I have not had in recent years, and frankly, some of it has come from having finally done things I have wanted to do, like cleaning out the accumulation of 22 years, in files and boxes, in the storeroom.

The greatest interest has come of course from observing the preliminary maneuvers of candidates or would-be candidates, to represent the 29th District in the 85th Congress.

I SAID, WHEN I announced my intention not to run next year, that I had no picked candidate and that I did not intend to take part in the primary campaign of 1956. The voters of this district are able to look over the field and select their own Representative, or the opposing candidates of the parties, in June. It is that kind of a District.

I recall, when Governor Olson put me on his "purge list" in 1940. I was honored with second place on the list! The point is, from that moment I was sure of re-election. We may argue among ourselves, but we welcome no interference in our private affairs, nor do we want any one to make our decisions for us.

I ANNOUNCED, at the same time, that since all prospective candidates, even if only mildly interested, would be in fact my "constituents" for another 13 months, they were entitled to turn to me or to the Congressional office in Washington for information about the job of being a Representative, or for any details which would help them decide whether or not to run. It is a complex job and highly technical and there are lots of things which are hard to understand, even to elected Representatives, let alone men or women who are just thinking about trying to get elected.

So I have talked to seven people whose interest varies in warmth from cool to hot, and four of them have, up to now, come in to see me and to ask questions. These inquiries are so interesting in themselves that I have decided in the weeks between now and the beginning of the second session, to write, informally, and probably disjointedly, about the details of one of the most important jobs in the world today, that of being a Representative in the Congress of the United States, in one of the historic periods of our history, when courage and understanding can preserve not only our own peace and internal strength, and decide our future, but that of the other nations of the world, while a false step, or a deliberately political move, could destroy not only this nation but, literally, all mankind.

CIVILIZATIONS BEFORE US, great in their days as we are in ours, have come and gone. I told Mrs. Phillips, when I started on the storeroom, into which boxes had been put annually from sessions beginning in 1933, and on top of which three generations had piled possessions, too good to throw away but not needed in the daily living, that I could think only of that spot in the near east where archeologists, burrowing into the sand and dust of the ages, had uncovered—how many was it!—seven civilizations, one on top of the other, each one developed, prosperous, presumably happy, and then gone and forgotten.

What makes us think, just because we are great and strong and proud of our strength and ingenuity, that we can not make a false step? We've made plenty, in the past few years, each one taking us away from the form of government given us by the writers of the Constitution, and leading us nearer and nearer to a socialistic state, and therefore to eventual collapse. It is into this picture that the next Representative of the 29th District of California will step.

So, beginning next week, like the TV series, this weekly letter will introduce the next Congressman to his first glimpse of Washington, and then will "flash back" to the campaign, or forward to the reality, dealing only in those points not known to the newcomers and surely not to all the folks at home.

wearing isn't the prop-type smile he usually maintains. It stems from his 25 percent ownership of the profits of "Picnic," and it should add plenty of feathers to his bed... Another swift runner in the caviar sweepstakes is Freddy Kohlmar, for whom "Picnic" is also a big credit... To give you some idea of rising costs, costumes in "The King and I" will cost 20th more than $500,000... Hey, wait'll you see that Jimmy Cagney riding another winner in "Tribute to a Bad Man!"... Arthur Lyons will reopen the Play-ers on the Strip December 22 as two restaurants. The one upstairs will be called Versailles and will serve French food; the one downstairs will be called Quo Vadis and will serve Italian food. We'll have some of that Scotch grouse, some pheasant en casserole, a firkin of Strasbourg foie gras, quail in aspic and a splash of that vanilla soufflé... Newest Yule affectation for the girl who has everything: a "divorce ring." Diamonds set in a black jet band... To paraphrase Joe Schenck, "There's nothing wrong with the old faces that good plastic surgery can't cure"... Business was this bad for a recent Chinese Theater attraction: a quickie in a 300-seat house down the Boulevard grossed much more for the week than the biggie at the Chinese!... Think we'll take our Popularity Poll — among the merchants of H'wood, Beverly Hills, Brentwood, etc. Among those who pay their bills and never push the panic button are Ann Sheridan, Lydia and Charlton Heston, Ardis and Bill Holden, John and Marie Lund, the Clark Gables, June and Fred MacMurray... There's no accounting for tastes, as the gal said when told her husband was wanted by the police.

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK — Jan Murray did a good turn for Milton Berle the other day — flying to Hollywood to sub for him on TV — and now NBC's all up in the airwaves about signing Jan. "We gotta own this boy!" they say. And two studios invited him to move his ABC quiz-whiz to Hollywood so he can make movies. "Before this," he confesses, "no studio ever invited me even to a preview!"

Robert Q. Lewis (the Harold Lloyd look-alike) told Bob Sylvester's Fight-for-Sight benefit: "I'm glad to be here in Carnegie Hall, the only spot in which Betty Hutton has not retired from show business."

Barry Gordon, 6, singer of the hit record, "Nuttin' for Christmas," spotted Jayne Mansfield's daughter, Jayne Marie, 5, at the benefit. "Say," gasped the young wolf, "she's a cutie!"

A Battle of the Busts promised since Producers Harold Hecht and Burt Lancaster signed sexy Sophia Loren, the Italian rival of Gina Lollobrigida, to make her American film debut. (They already have Gina in "Trapeze.") Mentioning Sophia to Gina is like saying Frank Buck to a monkey, or Exquisite Form to Maidenform.

HOLD IT, GALS! Liberace'll be Ed Murrow's Person-to-Person person January 6... Judy Tyler of "Pipe Dream" or Martha Wright may get the Edith Adams spot on the Jack Paar show; Edie's going with husband Ernie Kovacs on his NBC spot opposite Godfrey. Your old radio pal, Kenny Delmar ("Senator Claghorn"), will clown with Kovacs regularly... Jack Benny's stay-at-home secret: he diets and practices the violin like mad.

George Jessel was at a London banquet. The toastmaster blew a horn for silence. "I don't need any more silence," responded George. "I just came from telling my jokes at the Hotel Savoy." The Savoy crowd was so quiet that George finally told them: "I know you're all mourning for Oliver Cromwell but he died 300 years ago. You must take these things in your stride." (After that, the Savoy signed him to two more weeks in April.)

Jean Cocteau tells of a woman who wished to suggest tactfully to her chauffeur that he shave more often. "Tell me, James," she said, "how often do you think one should shave?" The chauffeur studied her and said, "In Madam's case, twice a week."

HOW TO BE GALLANT: Maurice Chevalier introduced Marlene Dietrich at the Waldorf Empire Room as "the woman who was the most beautiful in the world 25 years ago and still the most beautiful in the world." Marlene kissed his hand, and he kissed hers... Shirley Booth says her show, "Desk Set," which breaks at 10:30 p.m., "closes earlier than any except 'Heavenly Twins' (the Faye Emerson-Jean Pierre Aumont opus), which has closed permanently."

The B.W. brought it home from the beauty parlor: about the two tigers in a bar admiring a pretty blond customer. One tiger ate the blond and disappeared for three days, after which they met in a park. "Since I devoured that blond," said the tiger that'd been missing, "I haven't been able to do anything but sleep." His pal said, "Maybe it was that bar bit you ate."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Johnnie Ray expects a hot Christmas (the left to play Jo'burg, S. Africa, where the climate's reversed)... Linda Darnell's agent assisted with the divorce; now her career'll be rushed ahead.

A Marilyn Monroe fan in Germany sent her a letter, to "New York City"; it was forwarded to The Friars—an all-male club... Shirl Conway leaves "Plain and Fancy" next month to head the London company... Lisa Ferraday told Brod Crawford their romance would blossom—as long as he stayed on the wagon... Washington Report

WASHINGTON — Congressional investigators have gotten hold of some potentially highly explosive Defense Department files.

According to these documents, Defense Secretary Wilson is secretly drafting a new set of procurement regulations that will extensively change the business contracts of the armed services.

The probers have been told these revisions will add hundreds of millions of dollars to the government's military costs.

Highlights of this unannounced "new pricing policy" are:

Inclusion of "escalator clauses" in defense contracts to automatically increase them if production costs go up.

Restrict the government's rights to patents, copyrights and technical data developed under government contracts.

Add new costs which can be charged under these contracts.

The far-reaching new procurement regulations are set to become effective in February.

The Defense Department's files also reveal that a large group of businessmen has been working on these changes for months. The unit was named by Wilson last year, and is known as the Procurement and Production Advisory Committee of the Defense Department.

The chairman is Lloyd H. Mulit, Standard Oil of California official. The Committee has considered other matters, but its main activity has been revising the provisions of military contracts. The group is now consulting other business executives on their views of these revisions and recommendations on the indices to be used with the new escalator clauses.

Members of this significant Advisory Committee are:

Meanwhile the probers are looking into the possibility that new headline-making "conflict-of-interests" cases may be involved. Privately, the congressional investigators are making no secret they intend to make the most of this discovery. They think they've got hold of a big bomb-shell, and they are going to explode it as loudly as possible.

Try and Stop Me

—By BENNETT CERF

Young Halstead had been promised a pup for his eighth birthday, but had a tough time choosing between a dozen likely candidates at the neighborhood pet shop. Finally he decided upon one nondescript little pooch who was wagging his tail furiously. Explained Halstead, "I want the one with the happy ending."

A nun, hurrying back to the convent, dropped her bag in the slush at a busy crossing. The town good-for-nothing splashed across the street to rescue it for her.

"Thank you," she said. "I'll never let anybody say again that you're not an upstanding, honest fellow."

"At least, Sister," he grinned, "I'm honest to goodness."

Work Started on New Buildings for County Fair

INDIO—Low bidders on the new buildings for the 1956 Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival announced this week that steel for the structure was enroute to the Indio fairgrounds, and that the staking out of the sites has started.

A spokesman for the local firm of Kretz and Wilson said that the material was started on its way as soon as final approval of the building program was given Monday by the county board of supervisors.

BECAUSE BIDS FOR the new structures opened previously ran above funds allocated for the building program, certain features had to be eliminated for fair time, February 16-22, and plans for a new dressing room were postponed. State funds totalling $167,400 had been allocated earlier this year by the California Public Works Board for a new junior exhibit building and an addition to the present commercial exhibit structure.

COUNTY FAIR funds were scheduled to be used for dressing room facilities for the cast of the Arabian Nights pageant. However, this money must now be used for the other buildings, according to Robert Fullenwider, fair manager. The trimmed down bid accepted by the supervisors eliminates some electrical work, plumbing, and painting for the February 1 deadline, when both buildings will be ready for occupancy.

THE JUNIOR EXHIBIT building replaces a large tent used in former years. It will house under one roof the expanding gem and mineral show that has become one of the outstanding attractions of the fair.

The added floor space for commercial exhibits will permit elimination of another large tent that has been used for previous overflow displays, Fullenwider said. The Indio building firm plans to add extra crews to meet the February deadline. Final operations will be completed after the fair in February.

Angel View Foundation Takes Action for Future

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Actions aimed at the solution of many of the long-range problems in the total program of the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation were taken by the Board of Directors of that organization at its regular monthly meeting held this week.

Two new members of the Board of Directors were elected. They are Mrs. Ruth C. Cole, president of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Lillian Woods, long time resident and community leader from Desert Hot Springs.

IN ANNOUNCING their election, Homer J. Aspy, director of Public Relations for the Foundation said:

"Mrs. Cole, as head of the second largest school system in the nation, has successfully demonstrated her ability to administer the expenditure of millions of dollars annually. She brings to the board not only prestige, experience and ability but also a deep interest in the welfare of children and a great enthusiasm for the desert. We believe her active participation in the affairs of the Foundation will materially assist in the progress of the hospital program."

"Mrs. Woods, who served as the first secretary of the original Chamber of Commerce at Garnet, has a long record of community service including club activity in her former residence in Massachusetts. In business for herself, Mrs. Woods was a successful dress designer. Her gracious and charming manner will be of immeasurable value in her representation of the Foundation."

SPOKESMEN for the group report that one of the long felt needs has been the strengthening of the board of directors by the addition of new members to that board. This action has been taken as a first step toward bringing the membership of the board to its full strength.

Arnold Rumwell, prominent Palm Springs attorney and member of the Foundation board, was elected acting chairman of the Board. This office has never been filled and it is believed that the business of the Foundation can be accomplished with efficiency and dispatch under the leadership of Rumwell.

"RUMWELL HAS served in community projects wherever he has made his residence," Aspy said. "The City of Palo Alto honored him with a special award for his unselfish and meritorious service to that city while he resided there. He was formerly Palo Alto's city attorney and in addition helped set up a medical research foundation in that community which has attracted much attention and has been successful in raising large sums of money. His coming to our board chairmanship brings experience and stability to our program."

Further action of the board included abolishment of the office of business manager for the present period, at least. Leslie Morgan will serve the Foundation as maintenance supervisor and will handle the details of construction problems under the direction of the board.

ONE OF THE MOST significant actions taken was the election of Les and Fern Morgan to the designation of Founders. According to the by-laws of the Foundation, members of the original Advisory Board who have rendered outstanding personal service to the Foundation may be recognized and honored by the designation of such individuals as Founders.

"There can be absolutely no doubt in anyone's mind concerning the tremendous personal service rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Morgan," stated the spokesman for the group.

"EVERYWHERE I GO people bear a common testimony that the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation would not exist today had it not been for the tireless and unselfish activities of Les and Fern Morgan. Theirs has been a great work motivated by a great faith in its possibility and its future."

"The Desert Hot Springs community itself, and many children as yet unnamed and unknown will never be able to repay these people for their contribution nor can they adequately express their gratitude for persistent loyalty to their dream which is destined to bring so much good to this community."

DETAILS CONCERNING significant contributions for the purpose of furnishing rooms in the outpatient clinic were reported by Mr. Morgan. Dr. Bingham, medi-

Chamber Adopts Resolution Backing Ore Reduction Plant

THOUSAND PALMS — The Chamber of Commerce, during their meeting here this week, unanimously decided to send a letter and a resolution to the county board of supervisors, asking that the supervisors approve the permit for the construction of the ore reduction plant near here.

Clifford James was a speaker at the meeting, and emphasized the fact that the ore reduction plant would not emit dust and that there are no chemicals used in the concentration waters, and little if any machinery noises. He added that 80 cents out of every dollar will be distributed among the Villagers and other laborers engaged in the mining and transportation of the ore.

The action was taken by the people of Thousand Palms following the announcement that the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce had passed a resolution against the construction of the plant.

Other items discussed by the local Chamber was the purchase of a fire engine, and the purchase of Indian land near Cathedral City for a dump site by the City of Palm Springs, in which development Palm Springs officials are working with surrounding commercial director, reported on the encouraging signs of improvement shown by many patients. He also announced the imminent visit to the clinic by outstanding specialists in different fields including pediatrics, nutrition and internal medicine.

Dates of their visits will be announced at an early date and it was stated that patients who care to consult these specialists may do so if they have no attending physician or if they are referred to the specialist by their own doctors.

CARNATION HOME

"Santa's Little Helper"—that's what I call Carnation Whipped Cream around this time of year. Nothing else makes my special holiday desserts look quite so festive. Nothing else adds that wonderful fresh cream taste.

Carnation Whipped Cream is so extra rich and heavy—it whips in just a minute or two. Believe me, only real Carnation whipped cream is good enough to top these very special pumpkin tarts.

Holiday Pumpkin Tarts

(Makes about 12 tarts)

- 1 cup canned pumpkin
- 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon allspice
- 1 cup CARNATION HOMOGENIZED MILK
- 2 eggs
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 2 tablespoons granulated sugar

Heat pumpkin in saucepan over low heat; blend in sugar, salt, spices, 2/3 cup milk and egg yolks. Cook until slightly thickened; remove from heat and add butter. Soften gelatin in remaining 1/4 cup milk; add to hot pumpkin. Stir in nuts, then chill until mixture begins to thicken. Beat egg whites until foamy; add granulated sugar and continue beating until very stiff. Fold into pumpkin. Spoon filling into chilled tart shells.

"A wife who makes these tarts is always
'Queen of Hearts'."

FOR TART SHELLS: Mix 2 cups crushed vanilla wafers with 1/2 cup melted butter. Place 12 paper cups in muffin tins. Line each paper cup with crumb mixture; chill shells in refrigerator before filling is added.

And, of course, just before you serve them, top each one with a snowy swirl of Carnation whipped cream. No last minute fuss involved. You can whip Carnation hours ahead and store in your refrigerator until needed.

Spices A-Z

You'll save time (and your temper) if you arrange spice boxes in alphabetical order in your cupboard or spice rack.

McIntyres at Home in Palm Springs

At home in their spacious Palm Springs residence at 1757 South Palm Canyon Drive are Mr. and Mrs. David McIntyre, who were married in Yuma in late October. The bride is the former Florence Karikas.

Before they left for a two weeks' visit to Las Vegas and other points, the McIntyres entertained in honor of their marriage. The bride wore the gown in which she was married, a waltz-length cinderella design of turquoise crystalline and net. Her short matching veil floated from a tiny crown.

A prime rib dinner, prepared by "The Flame" restaurant where Mr. McIntyre is broiler chef, was served to the following guests: the bride's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Hal Roe of Highland Park; her two sons by a previous marriage, Steven and Gary Karikas; her brother and his family Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Roe of Los Angeles, her sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Robinson and sons of El Monte, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Randall and daughter of Compton. Other guests were Mrs. Nellie Robinson of Garvey, Mrs. Nellie Randall of Hawthorne, and Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Costales of West Westchester.

After opening many wedding gifts, there was dancing, and the cutting of the wedding cake, before the McIntyres left on their motor trip.

A PROMINENT Chicagoan George Schmidt, has taken a home at 850 North Prescott Drive for the season. At present Mr. Schmidt is visiting with friends in La Jolla.

MRS. EMILY SALIN took the "Champagne Flight" from San Francisco recently to visit with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Richards, who live on Indian Trail. Mrs. Salin will be here till after the first of the year.

ESTHER GILBERT spent five days in Los Angeles on business and returned in time to report for jury duty in Indio Tuesday morning.

MRS. SYLVIA CLARK was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wolff in Stockton for a week recently. Mrs. Clark, the former owner of Harlow Haven, has returned to Palm Springs to make arrangements for a permanent residence here.

Casualness in Women's Clothes Predicted for 1956

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The new year 1956 will begin an era of studied casualness in women's clothes, Lilly Dache predicted today.

"We'll be casual with an elegance never achieved in the most strait-laced both physically and socially former days," declared Miss Dache, who is a cool-headed business woman with no time for crystal ball gazing.

It will be the definitive style for the second half of the 20th century, in the designer's opinion. The clothes we are wearing now she termed "transitional," with certain forerunners of future styles.

Miss Dache bases her predictions on a few significant facts. As she discussed them in a lunch interview, the voluble French designer, who is president of a perfume company, a hair products company, a cosmetics company and her own boutique and hat-designing firm, talked with mounting excitement.

"Ah, this is a wonderful time for a woman to live," she said, clasping her hands eagerly. "From now on women will be more free than ever before. They are ready to throw aside old taboos because they are secure."

"That is why they are ready for a new way to dress. You do not add anything new to yourself or dye your hair unless you are secure. You must know that you can get away with it. Now women are confident of their power."

"Studied casualness," Miss Dache continued, ignoring the cooling food on her plate, "is quite opposite from carelessness. You want an example? I give you one. Did you read where Marlene Dietrich walked into a cocktail lounge on Park Avenue wearing a gold kid trench coat with a sable collar? That is studied casualness."

Miss Dache cited the sweaters women now buy for evening wear as another example.

"I have sweaters that are embroidered with wonderful Spanish shawl kind of embroidery," she said. "They are one of a kind and people pay $200 for them. That is studied casualness."

Miss Dache predicted we will wear fewer tight-waisted clothes, more capes, more lush fabrics and bigger hats in the casual era. We also will pay more attention to colors in costumes and be less restricted by tight girdles.

Birthday Party for 2-Year-Old

A party at the Ray Youngberg home Saturday celebrated the second birthday of their son David. High chairs were provided for the smaller guests.

Gay decorations and favors made it a festive occasion and the chocolate birthday cake and ice cream met with enthusiastic approval.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

NEW YORK — The next best thing to being rich and handsome is to be lucky—and Jack Kramer qualifies on three counts. Kramer, in case it escapes you, is the retired world champion of tennis who now sits back and is content to count the house as a pro promoter. Just a few weeks back it looked as if he blew the deuce.

But once again, "Big Jake" has hit the jackpot. Starting tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden he will take his pro tennis troupe on a nationwide tour which, if all goes well, will have a two-year run. Not with the same cast, either. It's just one of the breaks of being lucky.

THE ENSEMBLE this time includes Tony Trabert, the U. S. and Wimbledon champion, who turns play-for-play against Pancho Gonzales, the two-time pro king. Supporting artists are Pancho Segura the two-handed Ecuadorian who is drooling for a shot at the "monsters" of the cast, and Aussie Rex Hartwig.

It could have been a lot different. Kramer's original thought was to line up both Trabert and Aussie Lew Hoad as the stars of his cast. Hoad was committed but the Australian "amateur" fathers outbid Kramer to keep lapping Lew eligible for next year's amateur Davis Cup play.

With Trabert already signed, Kramer was in a dither. He made a special trip to Australia to try to influence Hoad. It was no dice. So he accepted Hartwig, but needed a co-star to play opposite Trabert.

Gonzales was the answer, even though he and Kramer had not been seeing eye to eye financially. "I was in the tour, then out of it and then, finally, my lawyer told me I was back in," Gonzales said with the tactlessness that had Kramer squirming in his chair. "If I win this tour from Trabert, I am guaranteed a minimum of $25,000 next year against a percentage. You can bet I won't give Trabert an inch."

MEANWHILE, all the members of the cast seem to feel, outright or otherwise, that Hoad will capitulate to pro terms next year after finally proving himself.

"If Hoad consolidates his game and his thinking, he'll be the top amateur next year," Trabert asserted cautiously.

Hartwig is even more outspoken. He predicts a runaway for the Aussie Davis Cup forces while analyzing, also, that Hoad must get "up."

"Hoad can win nine out of 10 times from Ken Rosewall in the finals of any event, if he stays up and reaches the finals," Hartwig asserted. "He just lets down at the wrong time."

Twin Pines Five Wins by 62 to 27

A high scoring Twin Pines squad last night defeated Rim of the World, 62 to 27, in a cage game at the Banning High gym. Coach Herb Gunther's team took a 32 to 10 halftime lead, and coasted the rest of the way. Odean Grant was high scorer for the winners with 21 points.

6 Teams in SMC Polo Play

Round Robin Tourney Set for Weekend

Coast's Leaders to Compete Here Saturday, Sunday

Polo teams from Phoenix, San Francisco, and San Bernardino will travel this weekend to Shadow Mountain Polo field to play in a six-team round robin match against three local teams; Red Diamond, Shadow Mountain and El Mirador polo clubs.

The match will be the fourth round robin tournament since Palm Springs Polo Association started its Winter Season.

The Phoenix team will have Bobby Dwyer at 1; Skip Browne at 2; and Pete Gillam at 3.

The San Francisco team, whose horses are stable here for the season, includes Willie Tevis playing at 1; Tod Helder at 2, and Dave Monroe at 3.

San Bernardino, the nine-goal Pacific Coast champions, is captained by Duane Stephenson; Elmer Funkhouser is at 2, and Monty Montgomery at 3.

Of the local teams, the Red Diamond Polo Club has the season's best record with three wins and a loss suffered last week at La Jolla Polo Club. Red Diamonds consists of Frank Bogert at 1; Larry Funkhouser at 2, and Allen Scherer at 3.

Shadow Mountain Polo Club is manned by Ted Pierce at 1; Lisle Dixon at 2, and Lloyd Phillips at 3. The El Mirador team is led by international 5-goal star Tony Veen, and has Bill Moore at 2; with Don Howden and Bill Allen alternating at 3.

Play will start at 10 a.m. Saturday and continue through Sunday. Trophies will be awarded by the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce.

Social Outcast to Run in Big 'Cap

ARCADIA — Social Outcast will be flown here from the East to run in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in February and probably will stay for the San Juan Capistrano Handicap, it was disclosed today.

The disclosure was made by racing secretary Frank Kilroe, who has just returned from the East. Kilroe said that before leaving New York, he talked with Alfred Vanderbilt's trainer, Bill Winfrey, who told him of definite plans to fly Social Outcast to Santa Anita. Preston Burch told Kilroe that the Brookmeade Stable's Sailor, winner of the Pimlico Special, is a definite candidate for Santa Anita's $100,000 Maturity. Sailor also has been nominated for the Santa Anita Handicap.

Snead Favored in Miami Open

MIAMI, Fla. — A blue-ribbon field teed off in the 31st renewal of the Miami Open golf tournament today with 160 shot-makers sighted on one objective—beat Sam Snead.

Snead, the West Virginia mountaineer who found that hitting a golf ball was much more profitable than driving acorns with a crooked stick, aimed for an unprecedented sixth victory in this $12,500 tourney. No modern-day golfer ever has won a major title six times.

The aging "Slammer" added to his red hot favoritism by pronouncing himself physically in the pink and by putting precisely to cop the La Gorce pro-member tourney at Miami Beach with a six-under-par 65 Tuesday.

It will take Snead's best effort, however, for 15 of the top 21 golf money winners of the year are in the field of 141 professionals. These include Doug Ford of Yonkers, N. Y., voted "Golfier of the Year," and Mike Souchak, young Durham, N. C., star who won the Havana International Open last week.

Few gave defending titleholder Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., much hope of repeating this time. The youth came from behind in the last round to win his first major title on the final green last year with a 273.

Of the major "name" golfers, only National Open champ Jack Fleck, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Julius Boros, and Gene Littler were missing from the starting roster.

Former Miami Open titlists on hand besides Snead, Ford, and Rosburg included record-holder Fred Haas Jr., New Orleans; Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio; Dutch Harrison, St. Louis; Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Texas; Steve Warga, Miami, and Willie Klein, Miami Beach.

Indian B and C Cagers at Hemet

Palm Springs High School "B" and "C" teams travel to Hemet tonight for the "Hemet 'B' and 'C' basketball tournament."

Both Indian "Fives" won their first round matches by forfeit and are playing in the semi-finals tonight. Because the first round matches are not all complete the Palm Springs opponent has yet to be chosen.

Low of 56 Wins O'Donnell Event

A low score of 56 won the third weekly choose-up best-ball foursome tournament at O'Donnell Golf Club yesterday. A team made up of Earle Strebe, S. D. Cochran, C. E. Swithenbank, and Charlie Bing beat the nearest competitors by two strokes in the regular weekly invitational play.

Averaging a 58 for second place was a foursome which included Leo E. Owens, William O. McKay, Dan Wray, and Dad French.

Four teams tied at 59 for third place. They were: Howard Lilly, Pat Martin, Dr. C. H. Baldwin, and W. I. Buchanan; Jeff R. Townsend, Floyd Turner, Ben F. Shearer, and J. Carmichael; J. H. Ballinger, Hawthorne K. Dent, Gail Cave, and Florian Boyd; Reuben Fleet, Solle P. Manasse, George Howard, and H. T. Lewis.

At seventh place with 60 were Lew Wagner, Arnold Rummel, Paul Hodnick, and Harold Heathman.

They were followed by two teams with scores of 62 comprised of Tom Dumphy, Neil Jamison,

Elephant Dance Boosts Patterson

CLEVELAND — That "Dance of the Elephants" staged Wednesday night by Bob Baker and Nino Valdes seemed today to have boosted another guy — Young Floyd Patterson, of Brooklyn — into a June shot at the heavyweight crown.

Baker of Pittsburgh, won another decision over Valdes of Cuba in the Cleveland Arena, but the fight was such a boo-provoking farce that both were eliminated as potential challengers.

The cat-calls and strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," had scarcely echoed away in the arena's girders, when it was learned reliably that 21-year-old Patterson, top contender for the light heavyweight crown, has now become the man most likely to challenge Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight championship in June. Patterson is slated for an important bout tonight in Los Angeles against Jimmy Slade, a "spoiler" who once wrecked the hopes of Tommy Hurricane Jackson.

Baker, second-ranking heavy contender and Valdes, number three, not only eliminated themselves Wednesday night, but came close to being tossed out of the ring by Referee Tony La Branche. "I threatened to throw them out a couple of times," said La Branche, who provided most of the action during the dull 10-rounder that topped the 30th annual Cleveland Christmas Fund show.

William Reichel, and Dale Anderson; Walter Smith, Robert McHugh, Glenn Thomas, and George DeWaide.

Another best-ball foursome will be played next Wednesday.

Daugherty of Spartans Top Coach of '55

Michigan State Mentor Chosen in Coach's Poll

NEW YORK — Hugh Duffy Daugherty, who in his second year on the job guided Michigan State to a Rose Bowl berth, today was chosen football "Coach of the Year" in the annual poll conducted by the New York World-Telegram and Sun and the other Scripps-Howard newspapers.

The 40-year-old Spartan mentor, who didn't get a single vote in last year's balloting, this time rolled up the greatest winning margin in the 21-year history of the poll.

A total of 492 members of the American Football Coaches Assn. took part in the voting and Daugherty received the first-place ballots of 199. A distant second was Bud Wilkinson, coach of Oklahoma's Orange Bowl bound Sooners with 54.

Woody Hayes, coach of Big Ten champion Ohio State, was third with 42.

The award comes after a season that saw Daugherty build a team with only three games out of nine record the previous year into a formidable machine that won eight of nine and landed in the Rose Bowl.

No Cash for Jones JC Band

COLLINS, Miss. — The Covington county board of supervisors today withdrew a $250 donation to help finance a California trip for the Jones Junior College band because the school is playing against Negroes in the Junior Rose Bowl.

In a resolution adopted yesterday, the five-member board which administers county affairs said it has "no desire to contribute to the integration of the races, either socially or educationally."

Jones' unbeaten football team faces Compton Junior College's unbeaten team with several Negro players in the lineup, in the bowl game next Saturday at Pasadena.

Lat. Gov. Carroll Gartin, meanwhile, announced he had cancelled plans to fly to Pasadena with his wife to attend the game. He did not give his reasons.

Danny Kidd Wins

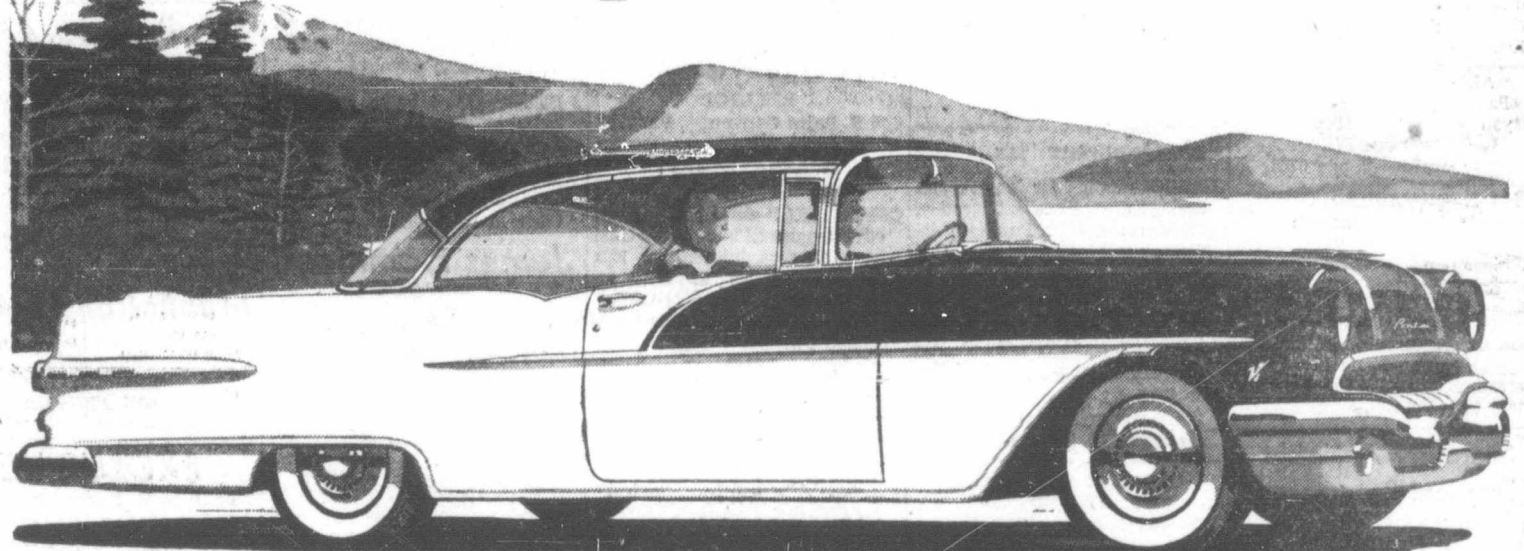

MANILA, — Danny Kidd of the Philippines, successfully defended his flyweight championship of the Orient Wednesday when he scored a 12-round decision over rugged Vitchai Kunol of Thailand. Kidd scaled 111½ pounds to his opponent's 109½.

Keep the swing as smooth as possible. How many times have you watched someone take several practice swings and find yourself admiring the smooth rhythm. He then stands up to the ball and to your utter amazement, you see him make a fast, chopping blow. What happened to the rhythm in the practice swing?

In most cases, golfers take good practice swings because they are thinking this is a practice swing. Then the same person steps up to the ball and instead of concentrating on a smooth action swing, they think only of hitting the ball. Thus all thoughts of a smooth swing vanish. The result is that they would do much better with an axe in their hand instead of a club. Remember—swing smooth, smooth!

High School Highlights

(This column, submitted by the High School Journalism Class, is written today by David Fisher and Sue Arnsberg.)

Two decisive wins over the Fontana Steelers by our Varsity and Bee basketball squads, highlighted this week's activities at P.S.H.S. The high school gym was the scene of action and some 200 students were on hand to supply the necessary encouragement for the 74-67 Varsity victory and the Bee win of 44-22.

On November 30 the football awards assembly was held in the gymnasium. Letters were presented to the Varsity and J.V. football players by Coaches Ballagh and Kazmier.

LAST THURSDAY the second locker clean up in the school's history took place under direction of the Special School Improvement Committee. The purpose of the clean up was to try and return as many lost books to their owners as possible, and it did this very successfully.

Those participating in the clean up were: Jack Hanson, Brenda Harris, Joe Henderson, Rich Hendren, Jim Lubach, Cubby Parker, Mary Paul, Arnold Rochlin, Kenny Sanders, Mark Sirott, Eddie Tarr, Jim Theiss, and Gary Waters.

THE CALIFORNIA Association of Student Councils held their Region V convention at the high school last Saturday with over 100 delegates attending. It started with registration and orange juice at 9, and an assembly following in the auditorium. Then the delegates went to various discussion groups; some of which were about student participation, clubs, a conference on C.A.S.C. led by Pat Hearne, Region V, president; and a presidents work shop, where all the presidents got together and discussed each others problems.

Delegates from our school attending the convention were Susan Arnsberg, Rollin Binzer, Georgetown Deveney, Merry K. McGahey, Lindsay Neilson, Kenny Reich, Peg Schuler and David Self. Besides sending delegates we supplied recording secretaries for the discussion groups. The girls who so graciously gave their time were Alvale Anderson, Gretchen Gerhart, Melinda Hough, Hazel Micelli, Beth Mills, Carolyn Reich, Sheila Reilly and Carol Saindon. Our Student Council advisors, Mrs. Thomas and Ralph Watt were also there with our principal Henry Greeley.

THE COMPLETE convention adjourned about 6:15 after two hours of free time and dinner.

Today, members of the Scholarship Society are in Hollywood viewing Cinerama Holiday. This is a reward, for receiving excellent grades, that has been given to its members since the society was founded years ago.

It is looked forward to each semester by its members and two of these excursions are taken a year: one educational and one for fun. This is one of the nicest things that happens during each semester, in our opinion, and certainly gives every student something to work harder for.

Harmless Drugs Add to Meat Storage

DAVIS, Calif. (AP)—By treating meat with certain harmless drugs it can be kept longer in cold storage or the deep freeze, according to a food technology expert Prof. Aloys L. Tappel, at the University of California.

Tappel reports that by mixing fresh pork, turkey, and fish with solutions of the tasteless antioxidants, storage has been increased three to six times in the laboratory. The antioxidants he tested are synthetic and now are being used in processing foods.

'Instant' Ingredients Used in Laboratories

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. John Pickett, University of California bacteriologist, has developed "instant media" in tablet form for bacteria. They are used in certain tests for identifying various types of bacteria.

They are time-savers, Pickett said, just as pudding and cake mixes are for housewives. They eliminate time-consuming measuring out of each ingredient.

Self-Caught

MISMARCK, N.D. (AP)—Policeman Ray Bossert takes his job seriously. He was one of the first to drive through a red light when a new semaphore was installed at a downtown intersection. Bossert wrote himself a tag and paid a $5 fine.

Dead Deer Witness for Prosecution

ONAWAY, Mich. (AP)—Three youths paid $50 fines each for shooting a deer out of season after the deer they thought they had killed lived to be a complaining witness against them.

A conservation officer, Harley Burris, told the court he and Police Chief Gordon Higgins were driving behind a car in which the youths were riding when the trunk of their car opened and a deer stuck its head out.

Half Million Dollar Kirschner Estate Near La Quinta Sold

The sale of the former Walter Kirschner estate in LaQuinta was just announced by Kenneth C. Herman of the Harold Hicks Real Estate Office.

The sale price was not announced, however, the original cost of the estate is estimated around $500,000. The purchaser is Dr. Charles Benson and the seller was the LaQuinta Hotel Corporation.

THE ESTATE consists of a large home, two guest houses and a separate office and other accessory buildings.

There are two pools on the property—the main one is violin shaped and fully tiled. There is a landscaped island in the center of the pool and a tile bridge from the yard to the pool. The second pool is off the master bedroom.

THE RAISED patio area consists of a fabulous barbecue pit of flagstone reputedly costing $10,000 and a fully equipped soda fountain. The adjoining date grove was also included in the sale.

Herman reported that Dr. Benson is planning many improvements to the property.

Goldfish Deal Now Profitable Business

GOODMAN, Miss. (AP)—Norman King changed his mind about being stung on the goldfish he ordered back in 1927.

Snakes and turtles ate the goldfish in King's pond, but the weeds sent along by the hatchery have thrived these many years, and he claims his Shady Rest Fisheries is the nation's biggest dealer in aquarium plants.

King harvests 11 different types of underwater plants. He has sold as high as $1,000 worth of the plants in a single month.

Ducks Fooled

HOT SPRINGS, S. D. (AP)—Despite the theory of some hunters, it is possible to fool wild ducks. A flock crashed into the Hot Springs airport runway during a snowstorm recently apparently mistaking it for a lake. Result: about 200 dead and crippled ducks.

Cadillac

Strangers—with a Mutual Friend!

Anyone who owns and drives a Cadillac will find this a familiar scene.

For it is not at all unusual for Cadillac owners to salute one another as they pass on the highway . . . or to exchange approving nods as they wait for the traffic light to change.

Cadillac owners, you see, know that they have at least one mutual friend . . . in the Cadillac car.

And the chances are that if these two motorists were to meet, they would find they had a great deal more in common than just their affection for the "car of cars."

For Cadillac owners, taking them by and large, are people who share a keen appreciation for the finer things in life.

And, generally speaking, they are people of unusual practical wisdom . . . who have found in Cadillac the most economical means to the finest end in motordom.

They have learned, for instance, how reasonable a Cadillac can be insofar as original cost is concerned—actually within a few dollars of many "medium-priced" cars.

They have seen for themselves how economical a Cadillac is to operate through the miles . . . and how wonderfully dependable it is through the months and through the years.

And they have savored that final reward for choosing the "car of cars"—Cadillac's extraordinary resale value.

Perhaps, in view of these remarkable facts, the time has come for you to meet this wonderful friend of America's most demanding motorists.

We'll be delighted to introduce you at any time you find convenient—and to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

Why not come in today?
